INTRODUCTION

This document demonstrates our commitment to protecting the privacy and security of your personal information. It contains information regarding how we collect and use personal data or personal information about you in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and all other data protection legislation currently in force. Pursuant to that legislation, when processing data we will;

- Process information fairly, lawfully and in a clear, transparent way
- collect your data only for reasons that we find proper for the course of your employment in ways that have been explained to you
- only use it in the way that we have told you about
- ensure it is correct and up to date
- keep your data for only as long as we need it
- process it in a way that ensures it will not be lost or destroyed or used for anything that you are not aware of or have consented to (as appropriate).

Guard Business Solutions Ltd is a “data controller”. This means that we are responsible for determining the purpose and means of processing personal data relating to you.

“Personal data”, or “personal information”, means any information relating to an identified, or identifiable individual in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person. There are “special categories” of sensitive personal data, meaning data relating to racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, physical or mental health conditions, sex life or sexual orientation, genetic data, and biometric data which require a higher level of protection.

Rationale and Scope

The policy sets out how the centre will respond to instances where data is requested and what precautions are taken to ensure all data is processed, stored and disposed in line with the General Data Protection Regulation and Data Protection Act 2018.

We aim to:

- Safeguard and protect the personal data of all learners and staff at the centre.
- We aim to provide an efficient right of access service to all learners and staff at the Centre.

This policy covers all learners, staff, employers and volunteers when working at the Centre.

Roles and responsibilities

Our SMT (senior management team) take overall responsibility for the provision of all policies within the Centre. The CEO, will take overall responsibility for this policy, its application and sharing of appropriate information.

Any issues relating to Data Protection and Access Rights will be referred to our Data Protection Officer (DPO) via data.protection@gbs-ltd.co.uk

All staff and learners should ensure that any information that they provide to the Centre is accurate and up to date. Informing the Centre of any changes to information, which they have provided, e.g. change of address. Informing the Centre of any errors or changes to personal information.

How this Policy will be Communicated

- Our SMT will review policies and update as required or on annual basis if earlier
- Our policy will be made available on our website
- Our policy documents will form part of the induction for all staff to the centre
- When suitable, policies will be uploaded to OneFile resources for access by all appropriate users
- Acceptable user agreements to be held on learner files, or signed on OneFile as required
- We may email policy updates to staff as required or use OneFile system announcements
- Staff should review the Employee Handbook in relation to staff responsibilities under GDPR and Data Protection.

Method of Collection of Personal Information

Your personal information is obtained through the application and recruitment process, this may be directly from candidates, via an employment agency or a third party who undertakes background checks. Further information will be collected directly from you when you complete forms at the start of your employment, for example, your bank account details and next of kin details. Other details may be collected directly from you in the form of official documentation such as your driving license, passport or other right to work evidence. Data may be collected during your engagement with us to enable its continued existence or development. Personal data is kept in personnel files or within our HR and ICT systems.

Processing Information About You

We will only administer personal information in accordance with the lawful bases for processing. At least one of the following will apply when we process personal data:

- consent: You have given clear consent for us to process your personal data for a specific purpose.
- contract: The processing is necessary for a contract we have with you, or because we have asked you to take specific steps before entering into a contract.
- legal obligation: The processing is necessary for us to comply with the law (not including contractual obligations).
- vital interests: the processing is necessary to protect someone’s life.
- public task: the processing is necessary for us to perform a task in the public interest or for our official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law.
- legitimate interests: the processing is necessary for our legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party unless there is a good reason to protect your personal data which overrides those legitimate interests.

Lawful Basis for Processing Your Personal Information

We consider that the basis for which we will process the data contained in the list above (see section above - details of information we will hold about you) is necessary for the performance of the contract we have with you and to enable us to comply with our legal obligations. Occasionally, we may process personal information about you to pursue legitimate interests of our own or those of third parties, provided there is no good reason to protect your interests and your fundamental rights do not override those interests.

The circumstances in which we will process your personal information are listed below.

- making decisions about who to offer initial employment to, and subsequent internal appointments, promotions etc.
- responding to requests from third parties such as a reference request or mortgage approval etc.
- making decisions about salary and other benefits
- providing contractual benefits to you
- maintaining comprehensive up to date personnel records about you to ensure, amongst other things, effective correspondence can be achieved and appropriate contact points in the event of an emergency are maintained
- effectively monitoring both your conduct and your performance and to undertake procedures regarding both of these if the need arises
- offering a method of recourse for you against decisions made about you via a grievance procedure
- assessing training needs
- implementing an effective sickness absence management system including monitoring the amount of leave and subsequent actions to be taken including the making of reasonable adjustments
- gaining expert medical opinion when making decisions about your fitness for work
- managing statutory leave and pay systems such as maternity leave, pay etc.
- business planning and restructuring exercises
- dealing with legal claims made against us
- preventing fraud
- ensuring our administrative and IT systems are secure and robust against unauthorised access

There may be more than one reason to validate the reason for processing your personal information.

Lawful Basis for Processing “SPECIAL CATEGORIES” of Sensitive Data

“Special categories” of particularly sensitive personal information require higher levels of protection. We need to have further justification for collecting, storing and using this type of personal information. We may process special categories of personal information in the following circumstances:

- consent: You have given clear consent for us to process your personal data for a specific purpose.
- contract: The processing is necessary for a contract we have with you, or because we have asked you to take specific steps before entering into a contract.
- legal obligation: The processing is necessary for us to comply with the law (not including contractual obligations) and meets the obligations under our Data Protection Policy.
- vital interests: the processing is necessary to protect someone’s life.
- public task: the processing is necessary for us to perform a task in the public interest or for our official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law and meets the obligations under our data protection policy. (For example, in the case of equal opportunities monitoring)
- legitimate interests: the processing is necessary for our legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party unless there is a good reason to protect your personal data which overrides those legitimate interests (for example to assess your capacity to work on the grounds of ill health)
- Occasionally, special categories of data may be processed where you are not capable of giving your consent, where you have already made the information public or during legitimate business activities or legal obligations and in line with the appropriate safeguards.

Examples of the circumstances in which we will process special categories of your particularly sensitive personal information are listed below (this list is non-exhaustive):

- to protect your health and safety in the workplace
- to assess your physical or emotional fitness to work
- to determine if reasonable adjustments are needed or are in place
- to monitor and manage sickness absence, family leave or other absences from work (including time off for dependents)
- to administer benefits
- To fulfill equal opportunity monitoring or reporting obligations

Where appropriate, we may seek your written authorisation to process special categories of data. Upon such an occasion we will endeavour to provide full and clear reasons at that time for you to make an informed decision. In any situation where consent is sought, please be advised that you are under no contractual obligation to comply with a request. Should you decline to consent you will not suffer a detriment.

Information About Criminal Convictions

Information regarding criminal convictions may be processed in accordance with our legal obligations. Occasionally we may process such information to protect yours, or someone else's interests and you are not able to give your consent, or we may process such information in cases where you have already made the information public. Such information may be sought as part of the recruitment process or during your employment with us.

We do not anticipate that we will process information about criminal convictions.

Automated Decision-Making

We do not anticipate that any of our decisions will occur without human involvement. Should we use any form of automated decision making we will advise you of any change in writing.

Sharing Data

Your data will be shared with colleagues within the Company where it is necessary for them to undertake their duties. This includes, for example, Assessors/Tutors/Managers for their management of you, the HR department for maintaining personnel records and the payroll department for administering payment under your contract of employment.

It may be necessary for us to share your personal data with a third party or third-party service provider (including, but not limited to, contractors, agents or other associated/group companies) within, or outside of, the European Union (EU). Data sharing may arise due to a legal obligation, as part of the performance of a contract or in situations where there is another legitimate interest (including a legitimate interest of a third party) to do so.

The list below identifies which activities are carried out by third parties on our behalf:

- payroll
- pension providers/administrators
- IT services
- legal advisors
- security
- insurance providers

Data may be shared with 3rd parties in the following circumstances:

- in the process of regular reporting activities regarding our performance,
- with regards to a business or group re-organisation, sale or restructure,
- in relation to the maintenance support and/or hosting of data
- to adhere with our legal obligations
- in the process of obtaining advice and help to adhere with legal obligations
- in obtaining and securing funding from ESFA for the apprenticeship and functional skills delivery
- to adhere with our legal obligations under the Education Act 2011

If data is shared, we expect third parties to adhere and comply with the GDPR and protect any data of yours that they process. We do not permit any third parties to process personal data for their own reasons. Where they process your data, it is for a specific purpose according to our instructions.

We do not anticipate that we will transfer data to other countries.

Data Security

As part of our commitment to protecting the security of any data we process, we follow the strict GDPR policy and procedures that we have, and this is reviewed regularly.

In addition, we have put further security measures in place to avoid data from being accessed, damaged, interfered with, lost, damaged, stolen or compromised. In cases of a breach, or suspected breach, of data security you will be informed, as will any appropriate regulator, in accordance with our legal obligations.

Any data that is shared with third parties is restricted to those who have a business need, in accordance with our guidance and in accordance with the duty of confidentiality.

Data Retention

We anticipate that we will retain your data as part of the recruitment process for no longer than is necessary for the purpose for which it was collected.

We have considered the following in order to decide the appropriate retention period:

- quantity
- nature
- sensitivity
- risk of harm
- purpose for processing
- legal obligations

At the end of the retention period, upon conclusion of any contract we may have with you, or until we are no longer legally required to retain it, it will be reviewed and deleted, unless there is some special reason for keeping it. Occasionally, we may continue to use data without further notice to you. This will only be the case where any such data is anonymised, and you cannot be identified as being associated with that data.

Your Rights in relation to Your Data

We commit to ensure that any data we process is correct and up to date. It is your obligation to make us aware of any changes to your personal information.

In some situations, you may have the;

- Right to be informed. This means that we must tell you how we use your data, and this is the purpose of this privacy notice.
- Right to request access. You have the right to access the data that we hold on you. To do so, you should make a subject access request
- Right to request correction. If any data that we hold about you is incomplete or inaccurate, you can ask us to correct it.
- Right to request erasure. If you would like us to stop processing your data, you have the right to ask us to delete it from our systems where you believe there is no reason for us to continue processing it.
- Right to object to the inclusion of any information. In situations where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) you have the right to object to the way we use your data where we are using it.
- Right to request the restriction of processing. You have the right to ask us to stop the processing of data of your personal information. We will stop processing the data (whilst still holding it) until we have ensured that the data is correct.
- Right to portability. You may transfer the data that we hold on you for your own purposes.
- Right to request the transfer. You have the right to request the transfer of your personal information to another party.

Where you have provided consent to our use of your data, you also have the unrestricted right to withdraw that consent at any time. Withdrawing your consent means that we will stop processing the data that you had previously given us consent to use. There will be no consequences for withdrawing your consent. However, in some cases, we may continue to use the data where so permitted by having a legitimate reason for doing so.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights explained above, please contact Steven Guard or Penny Guard on 01246 925923

Consequences of your Failure to Provide Personal Information

If you neglect to provide certain information when requested, it may affect our ability to enter into or continue with an employment contract with you, and it may prevent us from complying with our legal obligations.

Change of Purpose for Processing Data

We commit to only process your personal information for the purposes for which it was collected, except where we reasonably consider that the reason for processing changes to another reason and that reason is consistent with the original basis for processing. Should we need to process personal information for another reason, we will inform you of this and advise you of the lawful basis upon which we will process.

Important note: We may process your personal information without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules (see above section - lawful basis for processing your personal information).

In the event that you enter into an employment contract with us, any information already collected may be processed further in accordance with our data protection policy, a copy of which will be provided to you.

Working off Site

Any staff members who are working off site must always adhere to this Data Protection Policy.

Staff are reminded that if they take personal data home, they are responsible for its security and must have secure storage in which to keep any files containing personal data. All mobile devices must be password protected and any loss or unauthorised access must be reported to the DPO immediately.

Complaints, Questions, Expected Conduct and Incident Management

Our Center has a robust complaints and appeals procedure in place. Please refer to this policy. Alternatively, it is the responsibility of our Data Protection Officer (DPO) to oversee compliance with this statement. Should you have any questions regarding this statement, or how we process your personal information, please contact our Data Protection Officer:

Steven Guard on 01246 925923 or data.protection@gbs-ltd.co.uk

The supervisory authority in the UK for data protection matters is the Information Commissioner (ICO). If you think your data protection rights have been breached in any way by us, you are able to make a complaint to the ICO.

All staff at the Centre are made aware of policies and procedures and are aware of how to report any concerns over data process and access. Centre management reserve the right to enforce disciplinary procedures if issues and concerns have not been reported in line with company policy and procedures. All staff must attend any mandatory GDPR and Data Protection training as requested by the Centre.

As a member of staff, if you are unsure of the data processing and access management process, you must refer to the DPO or the director(s) for support and guidance. All information given to the DPO will be treated with appropriate levels of confidence and confidentiality. As a Centre, we are duty bound to report problems or concerns to external agencies, such as the police, local authority organisations or other external agencies as we feel would be most appropriate to the situation and in the best interest of the learner and to protect the reputation and integrity of the Centre and associated businesses.

POLICY IMPLEMENTATION

Company Board

Agreement is reached at Company Board level to accept the policy as representative of the commitment shown by GBS. The policy is then signed on behalf of the company by the Managing Director.

Heads of Departments

The policy is distributed to Directors serving as Heads of Departments, who are responsible for the distribution of the policy to the relevant staff within their department.

New Staff

The policy will be introduced to all new staff on induction and a policy summary issued to them.

Monitoring and Review

The Head of Performance will continually monitor the contents and working arrangements of the policy in order to assist in its revision.

The Managing Director will review the policy each year with the assistance of the Head of Performance, taking into consideration any recommendations from Directors or staff.

Company Policies Files

Copies of the Policy, Procedures, Risk Assessments and Staff Induction will be held centrally in the Company Policies Files in the offices of the administration office.
